2006 Dungeness Crab & Seafood Festival October 7th & 8th

Looking for Participants

For Immediate Release

The Dungeness Crab and Seafood Festival is seeking arts and crafts booths, merchants, non-profit organizations, and volunteers to be involved in the 5th annual celebration, Saturday and Sunday, October 7-8, 2006, in Port Angeles, Washington. The region's diverse bounty - seafood, agriculture and maritime traditions, brings locals and visitors together to the coastal atmosphere of Port Angeles. More than 12,000 attendees enjoy the festival's Crab Feed and great local food booths, the signature Grab-a-Crab Derby, more than 50 vendors, and great regional entertainment, spread out on the City Pier and the Red Lion Parking lot. There will be cooking demonstration, an environmental education center, programs for families, and more.

Applications for the booths that fill the City Pier are being accepted for arts and crafts, merchants, and non-profit organizations. Visit us on line at www.crabfestival.org or call 360-457-6110 to receive one by mail. The deadline for applications is September 3rd.

Volunteers are needed throughout the festival weekend, as well as in the days and weeks preceding. Without the help of these volunteers, the festival would not be possible. In recognition, each volunteer will receive a volunteer t-shirt and the thanks of the community. To be a part of the festival, fill out an application at www.crabfestival.org or call 360-457-6110 to receive one by mail.

The Dungeness Crab & Seafood Festival is produced by Olympic Peninsula Community Celebrations, a nonprofit corporation, with generous community support from the City of Port Angeles, and the Port Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Festival Presenting Sponsors are: First Federal Savings and Loan, John L. Scott - Port Angeles, Peninsula Daily News, Red Lion Hotel Port Angeles, and Wilder Auto.
